

THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE

VOL. XXX., NO. 25.

THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE, FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 1939.

$2.00 PER ANNUM

CANADA'S GIFT TO QUEEN AND PRINCESSES

On behalf of the people of Canada, Prime Minister Mackenzie King presented Queen Elizabeth with a twin silver fox stole trimmed with white gold clasps, and through her for the Queen Mother Mary, an Arctic white stole. For the princesses, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, were sets of marten scarves and mufflers.

The presentations were made immediately prior to the sailing of Their Majesties from Halifax on the Empress of Britain.

NOW A PROVEN FIELD

It would be hard to estimate the millions of dollars that have been sunk in the Turner Valley oil field, and the number of speculators who took a trimming there, but it is now a well-proven and established field, even though there are still some wildcat propositions. It took Alberta ten years to produce the first 100,000 barrels, but in the next five years production jumped at that rate each year. For the next dozen years production remained fairly steady between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000 barrels a year. The next year the amount was doubled, and last year it reached the satisfying total of 6,742,000 barrels.

The Coleman hospital board will purchase a motor ambulance.

GARDEN PARTY JUNE 28th

The annual Garden Party, sponsored by the Ladies' Aid of the United Church will be held on the grounds of the Greenhill Apartments in West Blaimore on the afternoon of Wednesday next, June 28th, from 3 to 6. There will be strawberries and ice cream; also a fish pond for the children.

Please keep this date open.

TWENTY-FIVE BOYS KNIGHTS OF THE ALTAR

On the recent episcopal visit of Most Rev. Francis P. Carroll, D.D., Bishop of Calgary, to Blaimore, the Knights of the Altar, a society for boys calculated to attach them to the altar and masses and train them in citizenship was formed. Each of the twenty-five boys was presented with a certificate.

The officers of the new society are: Joe Lenchucha, grand knight; T. Galvon and A. Pozzi, knight commanders; S. Catorio, J. Petrick, J. Murphy, J. Piard, H. Galvon and W. Aschacher, knights; R. McDonald, D. Larchester, J. Yanota, S. Kubik, F. Yanota, E. Diamond, R. Diamond, P. Racette, A. Catorio, W. Lenchucha, R. Mancini, A. Piard and J. Gibas, pages.

Some excellent fishing is being had these days at the Frank lake.

Sports Day - July 1st

All Roads Lead to Blaimore for this Big Event of the Year, sponsored by the Blaimore Community Sports Association. Sanctioned by the Alberta Branch of the A. A. U. of Canada at the BLAIRMORE ATHLETIC STADIUM.

We understand that the weatherman has given promise of ideal weather for the big sports programme this year. Preparations are still going forward, and in a few days all will be in readiness for what is hoped to be the biggest athletic day in the Pass history, July 1st, Dominion Day, 1939. ## BLAIRMORE FISH CLUB TO WALDRON SUNDAY

As we go to press, we learn that the Blaimore Fish and Game Association plan on holding their first outing on Sunday, June 25th, and the centre of hostilities will be near the Waldron bridge on the North Fork river.

Those desirous of taking in the trip are required to register at the Blaimore Hardware store.

It is hoped that the weather man will act kindly on this occasion.

A bull trout, weighing exactly four pounds dressed, was brought in by Mr. A. Mark from the Carbonade River, near Lost Creek, on Wednesday evening.

The annual general meeting of the Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival will be held at the Greenhill hotel, Blaimore, tonight. Receiving the financial statements and reports, and election of officers will be on the agenda. Everyone interested in the festival is invited to be present. The financial statement to come before the meeting tonight will appear in next week's issue.

ELKS' PICNIC SUNDAY, WEATHER PERMITTING

Members of the Coleman and Blaimore Elks lodges, together with their wives, children and sweethearts are planning to hold their first joint annual picnic and sports on Sunday next at the Bradley ranch on the east shore of Crows' Nest Lake, weather permitting.

An elaborate programme of sports will be staged and the West Canadian Collieries' band will be in attendance.

For the benefit of those who may not know the way to the picnic grounds, they will cross the East Kootenay Power bridge, then straight across the railway track and follow the old trail around the lake shore.

For further information get in touch with the lodge secretaries. "Dick" Old is secretary of Blaimore lodge.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Lavelle, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Shera, of Lethbridge, formerly of Blaimore, to Mr. Gordon Richard Thorpe, of Creston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Thorpe, of Victoria, B.C., took place at Lethbridge on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe will take up residence at Creston.

MARCOLLI-GILMAR

St. Luke's Anglican church was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony at 10.30 a.m. on Thursday, June 15th, when Marguerite Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gilmar, became the bride of Mr. Philip Marcolli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcolli.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white flowered sheer with all white accessories, with a sunburst brooch, gift of Mrs. P. McEwen, senior, grandmother of the bride, and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Myrtle Gilmar, sister of the bride, wore a dress of royal blue, with all white accessories, and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. Mr. Willoughby, of Lethbridge, cousin of the bride, supported the groom.

Miss Vanoni played the wedding march as the party entered the church.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. R. Hague, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, after which the happy couple left by car for Spokane and other points in western United States. For the trip the bride chose a blue crepe dress; and blue and white check coat with matching accessories. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Marcolli will take up residence in Blaimore.

LOCAL GOLF NOTES

The ladies of the club held their monthly competition on Saturday last. Miss Sellen and Mrs. Nurcombe tied for first place, so they will be playing another match to declare the winner for the month of June. As usual, there will be a competition this Saturday for those who care to play. Picnic tea after the game.

On Wednesday, mixed foursomes were held and a good turnout of players were on hand to enter. The winners were: best gross, Miss Sellen and B. Wilson; best net, Miss Fraser and H. Pinkney. The ladies from Coleman supplied the refreshments.

Last Sunday the qualifying round for the Pettinson Cup was played. The scores were not up to usual, but there were more entries than last year. H. Toplay turned in a score of 80 to top the list. The players who qualified were: Large versus Jones, White versus Kerr, McDonald versus Wilson, Toplay versus Barnes. The first round is to be finished this week end, if at all possible.

There will be a cup competition next Sunday.

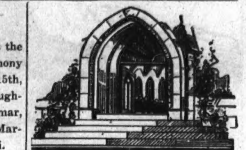

Will the holder of the Charbonnier Cup please return it to the club house.

KING GEORGE'S FIRST VISIT TO NEWFOUNDLAND

The files of The Western Star, published at Curling, Newfoundland, and dated June 25, 1913, had the following:

"On Thursday, the 16th, H.M.S. Cumberland appeared unexpectedly off Bank Head and anchored in the harbour of St. George at 6 p.m. On Friday they had gun practice off Port au Port. At noon on Saturday his Royal Highness Prince Albert came ashore with a number of cadets and went aboard a special train provided for him and others from the ship by H. D. Reid, who is host to the Prince. The train consists of Engine No. 114, one baggage car, one first-class coach and private car Terra Nova, which is in charge of Condr. Howlett, Engineer Joseph Guy, Brakeman John Richards; Herbert Russell, operator; Dr. Mitchell; of St. John's, medical adviser; Capt. Beach, A.D.C., and others aboard to look after the comfort of the Prince, officers and cadets. The train left St. George's for Robinsons at 1.45 p.m., returned at 11.15."

The Enterprise is the only paper in the world—bar none—that gives two whoops for Blaimore and district.

"Serve the Church that the Church May Serve You."

CHURCH ATTENDANCE

Church attendance decreases as a rule when spring and summer comes. There is nothing quite so discouraging and uninspiring to a minister as a slim congregation.

This is the way the church sometimes looks to the pastor when he goes into the pulpit! The pastor would just as soon preach to a woodpile as to empty benches. There is no inspiration in vacant pews!

The Royal Visit

An historic event, which may be expected to leave in its train a lasting and beneficial influence on the course of events in the Dominion, is the recent visit to Canada of Their Majesties, King George and Queen Elizabeth.

The occasion, as doubtless nearly everybody knows, marks the first appearance of all time in this country of the reigning monarch, and this in itself is indicative of the growing importance of the Dominion of Canada as a nation and as an entity within the Empire.

Their Majesties' tour across the country was nothing less than a triumphal progress. To those who have always been led to believe that Canadians are an undemonstrative and phlegmatic people, the warmth of the reception accorded the King and Queen by their loyal subjects on this side of the Atlantic was a surprise and occasioned amazement to Britons domiciled in the Motherland.

Nor was the acclaim with which Their Majesties were received confined to Canadians of British birth. On the contrary, it was noted during the progress of the Royal tour, that naturalized Canadians vied with those of British birth in the warmth of their demonstrations and the heartiness of their welcome to their sovereign liege and his beautiful consort.

Touching The Hearts

His Majesty's kindly demeanor combined with his human outlook and attitude inspired respect and high regard on the part of all who had the opportunity to meet him personally and of that much larger multitude who, of necessity, had to be content with little more than a fleeting glance and of reading about his actions and attitude during his visit.

As for Queen Elizabeth, it is no exaggeration to say that her beauty, her consideration for others and her many gracious gestures and kindly actions, coupled with an unassuming manner which did not detract one iota from her high rank, took the country by storm. Canadians immediately took her to their hearts and she left an impression which will long be remembered.

One of the beneficial effects which may be expected from this happy event is a tightening of these ties, loose though strong, which bind Canada to the Motherland and the sister units of the Empire. Had there been any thoughts in the minds of other rulers who harbor the wish as father to the thought that these ties are disintegrating, they must be thoroughly disillusioned by now.

It is also natural to assume that the visit of the King and Queen of Canada to their overseas realm will result in closer unity between the constituent parts of this Dominion, and that is a result which is devoutly to be desired if this country is to assume and maintain the rank in the world of nations to which she is entitled by virtue of her great expanse, the richness of her resources and the courage, initiative and vigor of her people. There should be no important cleavages between any two or more of the nine provinces whose peoples demonstrated in such forthright manner their loyalty, admiration and affection for the occupant of the Throne and his queen.

Undoubtedly, too, the opportunity afforded by the Royal visit to the Canadian people to become better acquainted with the King and the Queen will go a long way towards dispelling any desire which may have made some headway among a minority to espouse some of the various "isms" which have for their objective the overthrow of democratic rule. The enthusiasm which the presence of Their Majesties engendered in the hearts and minds of the people of this country can only be translated as a fervent desire to maintain here that form of government of which King George and Queen Elizabeth are the symbolic heads.

Cementing A Friendship

The decision, also, to extend the visit of the rulers of the Empire to Canada's friendly neighbor to the south, proved to be a most happy plan. The welcome accorded Their Majesties, the first British king and queen to set foot in the United States, in that country is ample evidence of the cordial relations existing between the two great democracies and the visit should do much to cement and augment a kindly feeling and co-operative spirit between the peoples of Great Britain and the United States and Canada and the United States respectively.

Their Majesties had not set foot on Canadian soil very long before their presence made itself felt in improved business conditions. The very fact that they made the trip across the Atlantic was evidence that the international situation was not as dangerous as some feared and believed, and evidence inspired confidence, and confidence was all that was needed to speed up the wheels of industry, and that in its turn, should go far towards solving some of the country's major problems.

It may well be that the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth to Canada was destined to mark the turning point in the economic welfare of the country.

Long live King George VI and his beautiful and gracious consort, Queen Elizabeth.

Orders New Plane

Reichsfuehrer Hitler has placed an order for a new airplane with space enough for a conference room and sufficient range to fly non-stop from Berlin to New York. The airplane is a four-engine, low wing, land machine of a type known as "Condor FW 200." It has an average speed of 220 miles an hour and a cruising range of 3,600 miles.

The Bible has been reprinted more than any other book. Each of the early printers inaugurated his career by running off a few copies of the Bible, as if to insure success in his future publications.

Volcanic bombs vary in size from that of a baseball to huge masses six feet in diameter, and they may be spherical or pear-shaped. The surface may be smooth or covered with fissures.

In Aid Of Charity

Toys belonging to Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose, one of Queen Victoria's dolls, a dress which Victoria made herself, and some things of Queen Elizabeth from Glamis are among the exhibits at a charity show open to the public at 145 Piccadilly, London. This was the home of the King and Queen and the Duke and Duchess of York.

Round-The-World Air Cruise

Tickets for "round-the-world cruise by air" will be offered by United Air Lines when trans-Atlantic air service of Pan American Airways begins this summer, it has been announced. The 17,000-mile trip will take 14 days and cost $1,785, which is a rate of 10¢ cents a mile.

A bullet can be photographed in flight by new, high-speed, photographic methods.

Britain's State Motor Car

Drawings in Detail Submitted To The King For Approval

Britain's State motor cars are the most carefully planned. The King takes an active part in their design. Chassis and coachwork drawings in great detail are always submitted to him. Frequently he makes practical suggestions, particularly for the inclusion of some item which may help the chauffeur for the men who drive him. The new Daimler State motor car has been fitted with an inlaid glass roof. This was the King's own suggestion in order to get as much light as possible into the car, so that Their Majesties can be more clearly seen on State drives when the weather precludes the landaulets hood being lowered. The King has discontinued his father's practice of riding in special forward seats. These are now frequently occupied by the Princesses. In the new car, special raised cushions have been fitted to these folding occasional seats for the benefit of the little Princesses. The car has the typical high roof, necessary to allow the King to wear tall military and other head-dresses on official occasions. All four of the State cars have a complete "secretariat" concealed in the centre arm rest so that the King may write while motoring.

A Quire Specimen

Bermuda Government Aquarium Has Secured A Lion Fish

Louis Mowbray, curator of the Bermuda government aquarium, is proud of his latest acquisition.

Its name, he admits, is not very impressive. It is "Pterois sp." Visitors to the aquarium, however, hear him call it a "lion fish" as he points him out its many unusual features.

"There isn't another one in captivity," Mowbray claims, while admitting that other branches of the species are contained in some collections. The local specimen was given to the aquarium by Vincent Astor, who obtained it in Hawaii from Christian Holmes, an amateur collector.

The fish is about eight inches long, with pale amber and brown striping and quill-like dorsal fins resembling a lion's mane. Although much smaller than the King of Beasts, the "lion fish" is not much safer to handle—for those dorsal spines contain tiny poison glands.

Representing a species which had been thought extinct, "Pterois sp." seemed quite unconcerned as he went about making himself at home in his aquarium tank.

The Wisdom Of Turkey

Ministry Of Education Forbids Make-up For Its School Girls

Turkey has ruled that girls at schools and universities must not try to look like movie stars. The Ministry of Education of Istanbul has notified heads of schools that the girls must not have their hair waved, curled, dyed or otherwise deviate from the "natural".

The ministers are also forbidden to use lipstick, powder, face cream or other forms of makeup, and must not wear jewelry or silk stockings.

Boys must have their hair neatly and closely cropped.

Rubber Life Rafts

U.S. Bombers Carry Them Fully Equipped For Emergency

Rubber life rafts capable of supporting 20 men have been adopted by the United States army air corps for its largest bombers. The rafts, which weigh about 11 pounds each, occupy only three cubic feet of space when folded. Equipped with flares, drinking water, repair kits and four coats, each seats 10 persons and has life lines to support an equal number in the water.

The Easiest Way

In view of the prescribed distances at which photographers had to remain during the royal stops on the Western Ontario itinerary, it was suggested that the best way to obtain a picture of their Majesties and avoid the crowd was to buy a postage stamp.

When the boarder told the landlady that his steak was like a day in June—very rare—she replied that his bill was like a day in March—very unsettled.

The comorant population of the one Peruvian island of Chincha is estimated at 9,600,000 and this colony is only one of many among the islands of the Humboldt current.

Even if there was such a thing as anti-worry insurance, we would have to worry about paying the premiums.

Bruasels, Belgium, has banned automobile horn blowing at any time.

England Was Her Birthplace

But Queen Elizabeth Claims Scotland As Her Native Land

It is generally assumed that Queen Elizabeth is Scotch. Her father is a Scottish earl and her mother was English. The principal family seat is Glamis Castle, in the county of Forfar, Scotland, but the Earl of Strathmore has another mansion at St. Paul's, Walsby, Hertfordshire, England, and it was there that the young Queen was born. Legally, a child takes the nationality of its father, therefore the Queen is a Scot.

But Her Majesty goes further than that. In her speech at the laying of the foundation stones of the Supreme Court building at Ottawa, she referred to Scotland as "my native land." When she spoke to a group of men from the Forfar county of Angus at Vancouver she referred to it as "my native country."

There is a story told of a Scotman who was boasting about the number of eminent men who were born there. An Englishman said, "Surely you will not claim that Shakespeare was a Scot?" "No," replied the Scot, "but he was good enough to be one." Queen Elizabeth may not be a native of Scotland—but she is good enough to have been.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Fastest Regular Train

Milwaukee Stream-Liner's Average Speed Is 74.6 Miles An Hour

The New York Times says the fastest regular start-to-stop steam train in the world is now made by the Morning Hiawatha of the Milwaukee road, according to Eric Crikemay, railroad expert of Thomas Cook & Son. He reports that this new stream-liner sets the record with an average speed of 74.6 miles an hour in making the 73.3 miles from Sparta to Portage, Wis., in 63 minutes.

"Who are those people who are cheering?" asked the recruit as the soldiers marched to the train. "Those," replied the veterans, "are the people who are not going."

Strength Of Empire

Trend Is To Better The Condition Of The Masses

"I'll tell my Dad." It remained for Aid. Lakie, of Lethbridge, to furnish the best proof yet of Queen Elizabeth's democracy of spirit. Aid. Lakie knew her father in Scotland. When the Queen met the Lethbridge alderman and he told her of his acquaintance with her father, she said, quite as casually as one Old Countryman to another, "I'll tell my Dad."

If there has been a tendency in democracies during the past quarter of a century to set up classes which show the extremes up in contrast—and we fear there has been—the humanness of King George and Queen Elizabeth shown during their Canadian tour should do much to cure it. The British Empire will continue strong as long as the whole trend is to better the position of the masses, and that betterment will come about the sooner if there is a sympathetic understanding of democratic principles by those in high places.—Lethbridge Herald.

Revenue From Wolves

Considerable Source Of Wealth Derived From Wolf Pelt

Canada has a general unsuspected source of wealth in its wolf skins. Alive the wolf is a marauder, destroying sheep and poultry on Alberta farms, for example, and doing serious depredation among our game.

But dead, his pelt is a thing of value, whether it be for robes, fur coats or other uses. And at times it provides a substantial export trade. In the fiscal year ending March 31, 1937, for instance, exports of wolf pelts were valued at $665,018, and in the five years from 1934 to 1938 the total value of such exports was $1,862,792, not very much short of two million dollars.—Sault Ste. Marie Star.

Opinion Of One Woman

Television Announcer Says Broadcasting Needs A Man's Voice

Jessie Elph, the taller of two girls who announce the British Broadcasting Corporation's television programs, took a bow when viewers voted they preferred women to men announcers. But, said she, they probably would not have voted so if they could not see her. "In television, I suppose, the public finds a woman announcer easier on the eyes, but there is something about non-vision broadcasting, that seems to need a man's voice."

A New Silver Alloy

Silver steel, a new stainless alloy which resists sea water corrosion, was announced by the Chemical Foundation at New York. The new alloy is made by adding a small amount of silver, never more than two per cent, and frequently less than one, to the present stainless steels that contain chromium and nickel.

Excavations have revealed a Roman fort, believed an outpost of Hadrian's wall, near Dumfries, Scotland. The fort is 570 feet long, 500 feet wide, believed made to accommodate 500 horsemen.

Banks Are Protected

Any Money Stolen By Bandits Is Fully Insured

The Peterborough Examiner says: There has been now and then some argument regarding the loss suffered by a bank when it is robbed, some contending that the branch would have to look upon the loss the same as one sustained in any other way, while others held that money was insured.

The Examiner made inquiry through the Canadian Press service at Toronto, and the reply was: "Chief Inspector's office of Canadian Bank of Commerce reports universal practice in chartered banks in Canada is to have all funds insured, so no robbery is at the expense of the bank involved."

The money to pay for the insurance of funds would probably be assessed against the earnings of all branches. Banks have weapons and in nearly all cases there is training in how to use them, but banks do not encourage employees to start shooting it out with any invaders. The individual can use his own discretion regarding such a move, but the official view is that a man's life is worth more than the money which may be stolen.

Tourists Visit Britain

The United States sent 97,258 visitors to Great Britain during 1938, a White Paper announced. The Government statistics showed Germany second with 79,652 and France third with 69,133. Total of foreigners visiting in Britain, the statement said, was 248,672 as compared with 297,142 in 1937.

It has been estimated that there are 6,000 brands of tea in the world, and experts are able to tell them apart by the taste.

KING AND QUEEN BID FAREWELL TO OUR DOMINION

Halifax.—Saying farewell to Canada with "memories that will never dim" and with "minds and hearts full," the King and Queen spoke to the millions of Canadians who have greeted them on their tour of the Dominion.

Over a national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and an Empire hookup Their Majesties each sent a brief message of thanks—a "bread and butter" letter to everyone in the Dominion. The King spoke a paragraph of his speech in French, as he had done at Quebec.

The King said: "The time has come for the Queen and myself to say good-bye to the people of Canada."

"You have given us a welcome of which the memory will always be dear to us. In our travels across your great country, we have seen not a little of its infinite variety of natural wealth and natural beauty."

"We have had the privilege of meeting Canadians of old and young, many proud racial origins and in all walks of life. We hope we have made many friends among you."

"We have had the opportunity, also, of crossing your border and paying an all too brief visit to Canada's great and friendly neighbor to the south. Our minds and hearts are full. We leave your shores after some of the most inspiring and illuminating weeks in our lives."

(The following paragraph was delivered in French.)

"My first duty is to thank you all from the bottom of my heart. In a very short time you have enabled us to see many things. We have to thank you not only for your personal kindness, but for the perfection of your arrangements. I must say, I think we have almost performed a miracle in surmounting the many difficulties presented by covering so vast a space in so limited a time."

"I return to England with a new sense of the resources and of the responsibilities of our British Empire. I am confident that Canada has before her a development far beyond the most optimistic dreams of her pioneers. Her growth in material wealth is fully assured. For her sons and daughters, I wish her an even greater growth in the stature of mind and spirit. I go home with an other thought, which is a comfort and an inspiration. From the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Tropics to the Arctic, the large part of the earth where there is possibility of war between neighbors, whose people are wholly dedicated to the pursuits of peace, a pattern to all men of how civilized nations should live together."

"It is good to know that such a region exists, for what man can do once he can do again. By God's grace yours may yet be the example which all the world will follow."

The Queen in her radio speech said:

"I cannot leave Canada without saying a word of farewell to you all, and thanking you for the wealth of affection that you have offered us through these unforgettable weeks."

"Seeing this country, with all its varied beauty and interest, has been a real delight to me; but what has warmed my heart in a way I cannot express in words is the proof you have given us everywhere that you were glad to see us. And in return, I want particularly to tell the women and children of Canada how glad I am to have seen so many of them. Some, I know, came scores of miles to meet us, and that has touched me deeply. There were many others, I fear, whose distance, or illness, prevented from coming; to these I should like to send a special word of greeting, for they have been always in my thoughts."

This wonderful tour of ours has given me memories that the passage of time will never dim. The people of Canada and to all the kind people in the United States who welcomed us so warmly last week—to one and all on this great friendly continent, I say thank you. God be with you and God bless you. Au revoir et dieu vous benisse."

Wasteful Methods

Newton, Kas.—"How to waste your grain," commented Dr. Eduard Benes as he watched a combine on a wheat farm near here. "You walk through it and tramp it down," the former Czechoslovakian president said. "Some of the wheat is not picked up by the machine and you do not salvage it. That would never do in Czechoslovakia. When I was a boy we reaped and threshed with a scythe and a sickle. Food supplies were running low in Rome."

Plight Of Farmers

Says Poor Crops And Poor Prices Causing Distress

Victoria.—Poor crops, poor prices and high cost of necessities are driving western Canadian farmers into "insolvency and distress," President F. W. Townley-Smith of Lashburn, Sask., told the Canadian Seed Growers' Association annual meeting here.

Townley-Smith told delegates from all over Canada that serious consideration should be given to the plight of farmers—especially in the prairie provinces—by all Canadians. "General agricultural conditions in western Canada—and that means principally the grain-growing industry—do not, in my opinion, show any improvement over a year ago," he said in his annual report.

"The main reasons for this are poor crops, poor prices and high prices for purchases."

"Any one of these would have a serious effect upon the prosperity of the farmer; any two would keep him discontented and poor; but the combination of the three is slowly but surely—and perhaps not so slowly as is generally thought—driving him into insolvency and distress. As our association is so vitally tied up with the success or failure of the western grain grower, the serious consideration of the situation is immediately apparent. The grain grower in poor circumstances very quickly cuts down on his purchases of high quality seeds and if we are not to be involved in the loss of markets for our products it behooves us to consider their plight."

Sentences Reduced

Royal Prerogative Of Mercy Is Extended To Prisoners

Ottawa.—On the eve of King's departure from Canada, the Royal prerogative of mercy was extended to every prisoner in Canada, serving a sentence of three months or more for an offence against the criminal code. Under a Governor-General's order, made public by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, every such sentence will be reduced by one month.

Additional consideration may be expected in individual cases of prisoners serving long term or penitentiary sentences, it was announced. Such cases, however, will be dealt with as they come under review in the remission service and may be reduced by more than one month if the prisoner's conduct is good and clemency is indicated.

The order was signed by Sir Lyman Duff, Chief Justice of Canada and Acting Governor-General.

U.S. Fighting 'Hoppers

Has Spent $3,000,000 In Control Work Already This Year

Washington.—Financed by an emergency appropriation of $1,750,000 the United States agriculture department redoubled efforts to check a grasshopper outbreak which threatens to rival destructive scourges of the past.

Thousands of tons of poison bait are being sent into the great plains region and the Pacific northwest. Because of hot, dry spring and neglect of drouth-abandoned land, the grasshoppers got an unexpected and early start this season, particularly in such states as North and South Dakota, Montana, Nebraska and Wyoming.

The agriculture department already has spent nearly $3,000,000 in control work this year.

Sentence Cancelled

London.—The court of appeal quashed the conviction and cancelled the ten year sentence of Gerald Francis Wharton, convicted in connection with recent Irish Republican Army bombings. The appeal contended that the sentencing judge created prejudice and biased the sentence on Wharton's association with the I.R.A. in 1920, which was irrelevant.

Good Literature

Pittsburg.—Under the reading of William Shakespeare's works, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the opposition in the Canadian senate, declared that "good literature is still our finest possession, and reading it the most profitable occupation of our leisure." Senator Meighen was one of the seven awarded honorary degrees by the university.

Navigation Opened At Nome

Nome, Alaska.—All Nome used the waterfront to greet the first ship arriving here in nearly eight months. The steamship Sutherland broke through the great ice sheet covering the Bering Sea after she and three other ships had fought their way for opposition to foreign policies. Left in General Hermann Geyr, and right is General Stuepaigne, high air officer relieved of his command.

Charge Of Espionage

Berlin Is Asked To Withdraw German Consul From Liverpool

London.—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons he had asked the German government to withdraw its consul from Liverpool as a result of the consul's alleged connection with a recent espionage case.

The prime minister said that after studying the court records he had to accept the conclusion that the German consulate in Liverpool was implicated in a case in which it was alleged that a man named Joseph Kelley had been assisted in making contact with foreign agents to whom plans of a government ordnance factory were sold.

"We have therefore requested the German government to withdraw Consul Herr Reinhardt," he said. "The request was made two days ago."

Visit Being Considered

Report States Their Majesties May Go To Australia

Canberra, Australia.—Published reports from Australian newspapers travelling with the King and Queen in Canada that Their Majesties are considering a later visit to Australia are not denied by federal officials.

It is pointed out, however, the matter is in a delicate stage and newspaper forecasts are somewhat premature. Further, it is emphasized that such a visit is more the province of the British than the Australian government, and that, in view of the international situation, no forecast of time can possibly be given.

GERMAN TROOPS MOVE ON POLISH- SLOVAK BORDER

Paris.—Poland informed France that she was disturbed at reports of German troop concentrations on the Polish-Slovak border. She added that she was prepared to meet force with force in event of German aggression there or in Danzig. Poland emphasized that she would expect the western powers to come to her aid if aggression occurred.

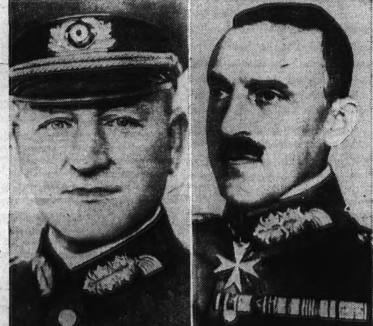

Despatches in the Paris papers reported all roads leading northward in the Vah river valley of Slovakia were choked with long columns of troops. Other troops were said to be massed in the Dukla and Jablunka passes in the White Carpathians.

The French government has not official confirmation of any German troop movements in Slovakia, but it was pointed out in Paris that Germany would have the right to send troops there if "invited" to do so by the Slovak government. Reports of the concentrations were said to have caused concern in Warsaw because they would place troops within an hour's striking distance of the great Polish-Silesian industrial and armaments district.

Bratislava, Slovakia.—Disquieting reports of a German-Hungarian agreement for dividing what remains of this little, nominally-independent country circulated from the halls of government to the smallest peasant village.

Even the most optimistic Slovak nationalists were alarmed by rumors of Chancellor Hitler's prospective visit to Budapest—officially denied but still believed in many quarters to be arranged for early July; by a deepening economic depression since March, with factories closing down and the currency rapidly losing its value; and by German troop movements on the Slovak-Polish border.

IN THE NAZI PURGE

According to reports which leaked out from Berlin the above two were among the thirty or more officers in the latest Nazi party purge of the army for opposition to foreign policies. Left is General Hermann Geyr, and right is General Stuepaigne, high air officer relieved of his command.

McGILL HEAD RESIGNS

Dr. Lewis W. Douglas, appointed Principal of McGill University less than two years ago, has resigned to take over a new post in the United States. He went to Montreal to fill the post left vacant by the resignation of Arthur E. Morgan, the English-born principal who left McGill because he could not see "eye-to-eye" with the Board of Governors.

Health Insurance

Facilities For Treating The Sick Said To Be Inadequate

Toronto.—Canada's facilities for treating the sick and for preventing sickness were described as "grossly inadequate" in a paper by Dr. Grant Fleming of Montreal to the Canadian Public Health Association convention.

Dr. Fleming, dean of the faculty of medicine and director of the public health department of McGill University, spoke in a symposium on medical aid in Canada, the United States and Great Britain. Sir Arthur MacNally, chief medical officer of Britain, and Dr. Nathan Sinal, professor of hygiene at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, spoke for their countries.

Dr. Fleming said unqualified personnel in health departments constituted a grave danger. Infant and tuberculosis mortality rates show medical care in its broadest sense is relatively inadequate in Canada, he said.

Western Canada has led the way toward some form of health insurance through its municipal physician service.

He suggested some health insurance scheme was essential in Canada, for families with a family income below $1,000 a year were "medically indigent."

Dr. Sinal declared the medical profession two years ago was opposed to health insurance. Now they agree it is necessary but disagree only on whether it should be compulsory or voluntary.

Canadian War Planes

More Deliveries To Be Made To Royal Air Force Squadrons

Ottawa.—More of the new war planes the Canadian government has ordered will be in the hands of eager Royal Canadian Air Force squadrons sometime this month, with deliveries increasing rapidly over the next two months, defence department officials said.

Shops of Canadian Vickers Limited in Montreal already have turned out five big twin-engined Stranraer flying boats for bombing and coastal patrol. Three of them provided an aerial escort for the King and Queen over the Strait of Northumberland. They are stationed at Dartmouth, N.B. The aircraft program provided for in 1937 and 1938 estimates calls for delivery of seven additional Stranraers.

Churchill Insurance Rates

No Change To Be Made This Year On Ships Using This Port

London.—Insurance rates on ships using the Hudson Bay route from British ports to Churchill, Man., will remain unchanged this year, the Imperial shipping committee announced.

The shipping committee's statement said, however, "the joint hull committee has taken note of the fact that there are already at Churchill for shipment from the 1938 season's crop some eight cargoes of wheat and they have agreed that if some 20 cargoes in all are brought away from Churchill during the 1939 season and no serious loss occurs they will be prepared to give favorable consideration to the question of recommending a reduction in 1940 from the rates of premium chargeable in 1939."

May Re-Visit Canada

King And Queen Express The Hope That They May Be Able To Come Again

Charlottetown.—King George and Queen Elizabeth expressed in a written address signed by His Majesty, "the hope that at some future time we may be able, accompanied by our daughters, to visit you again."

The address was handed by the King to Premier Thomas Campbell who read from another address Prince Edward Island's official welcome to Their Majesties.

King George thanked the people of the province for their warm welcome, thanked the premier "for the affectionate references to Her Majesty" in the official welcome and said "we share your hope that at some time we may be able, accompanied by our daughters, to visit you again."

BRITAIN WILL NOT SUBMIT TO JAP BLOCKADE

London.—The government will be forced to recast its whole far eastern policy if Japan persists in blockading the British concession at Tientsin, informed sources said.

The cabinet reviewed the situation shortly before Foreign Undersecretary Richard Butler told the House of Commons that the government was considering possible measures of retaliation against the Japanese blockade.

It was stated on high authority that Britain will not submit tamely to the Japanese blockade which, the government is convinced, is concerned not so much with the British protection of four alleged Chinese terrorists as with a Japanese attempt to gain a financial and economic stronghold on North China.

Britain is anxious to avoid economic retaliation if for no other reason than that it would injure British trade in China, as well as that of Japan. However, it is believed here that Japan, after two years of its costly war with China, would feel the pinch, quickly, particularly if France co-operated with Great Britain.

The government's policy since the start of the Sino-Japanese war has been designed solely to protect British rights and trading interests in China, many of them gained through treaties to which Japan is a signatory.

The French and United States governments are in close touch with Britain and are kept informed of all developments. The French concession also is blockaded.

Japanese preferences in British colonies and imperial markets are matters understood to be among the possible counter-measures now under review.

Hopes of quick settlement of the dispute received a sharp setback when Japanese officers at Tientsin rejected Britain's proposal to place the Japanese demands for the four alleged Chinese terrorists before a three-man tribunal of a Briton, a Japanese and a neutral.

British official circles expressed a belief that the question at stake was much more far-reaching than a mere dispute over suspected terrorists.

"It seems quite clear from semi-official Japanese statements," said the foreign office spokesman, "that the four men are being used as a pretext for aggressive measures with the object of giving Japanese economic and political control over the concession."

"This is only one of a long series of incidents aimed at forcing economic co-operation with the (Japanese) new order in China. So far the new order has only proved injurious to British trade and interests, and can only prove unbecome to all foreigners in China."

GROWING CROPS BENEFIT IN WEST BY JUNE RAINS

Winnipeg.—Moisture reserves over the prairie crop lands, abnormally low early this spring, have been replenished by heavy June rains.

Dominion meteorological records from April 1 to June 12, correlated with crop acreage figures, show that of 88,690,000 acres estimated as sown to wheat in the three prairie provinces, 13,540,000 have received better than normal rainfall while on 11,350,000 acres precipitation was below normal for the April 1-June 12 period.

Showers of the past few days, however, transferred some of the below normal acreage in southern Alberta to a normal basis and the cool weather prevailing has conserved moisture where it is below average.

Manitoba has not shared in the June rains to the same extent as Alberta and Saskatchewan. Meteorological records for Manitoba indicate that out of 3,200,000 acres in wheat, only about 800,000 acres have had above normal rainfall since April 1 and 2,400,000 acres below normal. However, much of the acreage below normal is only five to 10 per cent. down from average.

The Saskatchewan situation is much better than it has been for some years. Of the wheat acreage estimated at 15,700,000, some 3,700,000 acres have had above normal rainfall since April while approximately 5,000,000 acres are below normal. Much of the acreage lacking moisture lies in the southeastern section of the province.

An optimistic feature is the heavy moisture received in the former drouth areas of southwestern Saskatchewan. Shaunavon in this area reports 8.25 inches for the period April 1 to June 12 against an average for this period of 2.23 inches.

In Alberta the records indicate that of the 8,000,000 acres estimated as sown to wheat, 4,404,000 acres have had above normal rainfall, while 3,990,000 acres show below average.

In the south around Cardston, Foremost and Lethbridge precipitation is below average, however.

Declines Gift

Queen Elizabeth Unable To Accept Offer Of One Of The Thousand Islands

Brookville, Ont.—Mayor John T. Horne of Prescott announced that he has received word that the Queen "sincerely appreciates" but cannot accept his offer of the gift of one of the Thousand Islands to commemorate the royal visit to this part of the Dominion.

Mayor Horan immediately sent another message to Her Majesty to consent to having one of the islands in the St. Lawrence course bear her name.

The Queen replied promptly she could consider such a request only if made through the Canadian government. Mayor Horan, who is also president of the Thousand Islands Association, said he would visit Ottawa soon to present his request through official channels.

Talked With Norway

Crown Prince And Princess Spoke To Their Children From St. Paul

St. Paul.—Two little girls and a small boy, nearly 5,000 miles from home, talked with their parents by telephone when Crown Prince Olaf and Crown Princess Martha of Norway put through a call from here to the royal palace at Oslo, Norway.

Calling from the home of Dr. and Mrs. Egil Boeckmann, where they stayed during their three-day stay here, the crown prince and princess chatted with the children and with King Haakon.

Bill Is Approved

Washington.—By a strictly party vote, the house of representatives foreign affairs committee approved the new United States government neutrality bill, a measure so drawn that if war should come to Europe, America's vast resources would admittedly be available to Great Britain, France and their allies.

Canadian Wheat In Store

Ottawa.—Canadian wheat in store for the week ended June 9 totaled 113,116,782 bushels, compared with 115,863,252 the "previous week" and 29,174,682 bushels in the corresponding week last year, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

THEIR MAJESTIES FAREWELL

Saying farewell to Canada on Thursday, June 15th, with "memories that will never dim" and with "minds and hearts full," the King and Queen spoke at Halifax to the millions of Canadians who have greeted them on their tour of the Dominion.

Over a national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and an empire hookup their Majesties each sent a brief message of thanks to everyone in the Dominion.

"The time has come for the Queen and myself to say goodbye to the people of Canada," said His Majesty King George, in addressing a farewell luncheon. "You have given us a welcome of which the memory will always be dear to us. In our travels across your great country, we have seen not a little of its infinite variety of natural wealth and natural beauty."

"We have had the privilege of meeting Canadians, old and young, of many proud racial origins and in all walks of life. We hope we have made many friends among you."

"We have had the opportunity, also, of crossing your border and paying an all too brief visit to Canada's great and friendly neighbor to the south. Our minds and hearts are full. We leave your shores after some of the most inspiring and illuminating weeks in our lives."

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth added her own words of farewell as follows: "I cannot leave Canada without saying a word of farewell to you all, and thanking you for the wealth of affection that you have offered us throughout these unforgettable weeks."

"Seeing this great country, with all its varied beauty and interest, has been a real delight to me; but what has warmed my heart in a way I cannot express in words is the proof you have given us everywhere that you were glad to see us. ## THE PASS EIGHTEEN YEARS AGO

(The Blairmore Enterprise, 1921)

July 7.—July first celebration was one of the biggest events in Blairmore's history. The program included mine rescue and first aid contests, sponsored primarily by the Workmen's Compensation Board. Teams competing included Drumheller Land Co., Alberta Block Coal Co., C.P.R., West Canadian Collieries Ltd., Brazeau Collieries, Bankhead, East Kootenay and Coal Creek. Judges were Bob Strachan, Moses Johnson, Dudley Michel, Nat. Howells and William Hetherington. First aid teams competing included International, McGillivray, C.P.R. (Lethbridge), West Canadian Collieries (Blairmore and Bellevue), Drumheller, East Kootenay, Corbin, and East Kootenay Mine Safety Association. Fernie Junior teams: Blairmore, Bellevue, Fernie and Coal Creek. Judges for first aid were: Drs. Field, Beaman, McDonald, Carson, McNally, Mrs. Chief Hardy, of Lethbridge, and Mrs. T. Barnes, of Blairmore.

Winners in mine rescue were: Bellevue No. 3, first; Alberta Block Coal Co., second; Drumheller, third; and Blairmore No. 1, fourth. In first aid: Drumheller Land Co., first; International, second; McGillivray, third. First aid juniors: Bellevue, first; Fernie, second; Blairmore, third. The net proceeds of the two days went to the Red Cross.

P. M. Christophers was this week nominated to contest the Rocky Mountain constituency as a Labor candidate.

Miss Lella Purvis passed away on Sunday last, following a long illness. The marriage of Miss Myrtle Jewel McDonald to Mr. Harold O. Henderson took place at Hillcrest last evening.

Joe Bond, who has been teaching in the Lethbridge rural district, is home for the holidays.

Jack Dempsey walloped Georges Carpentier, French pugilistic idol, to a finish in four rounds this week.

Sid Sargent attended the graduation of his daughter, Miss Violet Sargent, at the Galt Hospital, Lethbridge, this week.

The local Union church became a United church this week, embodying Presbyterians, Methodists, Congregationalists and Baptists.

John A. McDonald has been appointed a sheriff's bailiff.

Hatfield, the rainmaker, has been requested to go to Dampy, Germany.

Four lots, east of the Anglican church, have been purchased by A. E. Ferguson from Capt. W. A. Beebe.

A Blairmore mother who on July 1st, chastised her child for not hanging on to her skirt received the reply: "I can't reach it, mamma!"

Alex. M. Morrison, of Coleman, has been chosen Liberal candidate for Rocky Mountain.

Reporter: "To what do you attribute your success as a golfer?"

Champion: "Well, perhaps I'm too lazy to take as many strokes as other people."

A local district pretty shop girl: "Could I interest you in a bathing suit, sir?"

Gay Boy: "You certainly could, baby, but my wife is with me."

am to have seen so many of them. Some, I know, came scores of miles to meet us, and that has touched me deeply. There are many others, I fear, whom distance or illness prevented from coming; to these I should like to send a special word of greeting—they have been always in my thoughts," said the Queen.

"This wonderful tour of ours has given me memories that the passage of time will never dim. To the people of Canada and to all the kind people in the United States who welcomed us so warmly last week—to one and all on this great friendly continent, I say thank you. God be with you and God bless you. Au revoir et die vous benisse."

The story goes the rounds of two young ladies going to Lee Lake one sunny morning for a bath. Deciding that no other persons were in the neighborhood at that hour, they stripped, piled their clothing behind a tree, and were about to travel in the nude to the lakeside when they noticed a car coming. It stopped but a short distance from where they were hiding. The occupant, a preacher, got out, sized up the country and arrived at exactly the same conclusion as the ladies had. He stripped, no bathing suit either, piled his clothing near the car, on top of which he placed his camera, then picked his steps over the beach towards the lake. One of the ladies thought of a glorious opportunity for a joke. She crept up to the car, grabbed the camera and backed into the bush, where each snapped a picture of the other, then replaced the camera. Imagine the horror-stricken minister's wife when she received back from the studio the developed films, plus six prints of each snap.

THE JEWISH MENACE

Somehow we never learn. Although this republic has survived the prophets who said it was about to be ruled by the Indians or the French or the Spaniards or the Chinese or the Irish or the Germans or the Italians or the Armenians or the Portuguese, it appears we are once more threatened. The Jews have got us by the throat, and after the fashion of the Know-Nothing Party and the Ku Klux Klan and other thoroughly despicable organizations, some eight hundred clubs and societies, I am told, have arisen to save us from the Jews. To be sure, there are less than four and one-half million Jews in the country as compared with 125 million "Gentiles," but there is some mysterious quality in the Jew which hypnotizes any number of Christians and turns them into slaves.

And what are the principal charges against the Jews? They are many, and they contradict each other. The Jew is extremely clannish, but on the other hand he is extremely individualistic. He clings to his religion, but, again he is an atheist. He is seeking a monopoly of the money power in the United States, but then he is the principal supporter of the Communist Party. He clings so closely to his family that if you do him a favor you will have all his sisters and his cousins and his aunts on your neck, but on the other hand he advocates birth control, lacks the finer sensibilities and jeers at heaven, home and mother.

He is so brilliant and clever that he outsmarts the rest of us, but he is so stubborn and stupid that we cannot hope to assimilate him. His sensuality is corrupting the movies, but he is a fanatic living on bread-and-water and Karl Marx in the morning in order that he may seduce the American voter from a soapbox in the afternoon. It is considered a crime that he wants an education and a crime that he is uneducated.

He has a hooknose, but, again he hasn't. He is an Oriental, but he is also a Russian internationalist. He is a mystic and he also can't understand him, but he is also a scientist, and you never can tell about scientists. He is monopolizing the professions, he is monopolizing the arts, and he wants to rule the United States, to which he is flocking in great numbers after ruling Germany, Czechoslovakia, Italy and, for aught I know, Greenland and Nova Zembla.

How preposterous and futile the whole thing! He is an Oriental, said Burke, indict a race. To prove this point, I shall now demonstrate that every charge brought against the Jew can with equal truth and equal falsity be brought against the American Anglo-Saxon. — Howard Mumford Jones, Professor of English, Harvard University.

Mrs. Blithers: "So, you've finished papering the room, have you?"

Paper Hanger: "Yes, ma'am."

Mrs. B.: "But what are those big bumps on the wall?"

P. H.: "Omigod! I forgot to take down the pictures."

The story goes the rounds of two young ladies going to Lee Lake one sunny morning for a bath. Deciding that no other persons were in the neighborhood at that hour, they stripped, piled their clothing behind a tree, and were about to travel in the nude to the lakeside when they noticed a car coming. It stopped but a short distance from where they were hiding. The occupant, a preacher, got out, sized up the country and arrived at exactly the same conclusion as the ladies had. He stripped, no bathing suit either, piled his clothing near the car, on top of which he placed his camera, then picked his steps over the beach towards the lake. One of the ladies thought of a glorious opportunity for a joke. She crept up to the car, grabbed the camera and backed into the bush, where each snapped a picture of the other, then replaced the camera. Imagine the horror-stricken minister's wife when she received back from the studio the developed films, plus six prints of each snap.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

A shower was held last Thursday evening in the Catholic hall in honor of Miss Bessie Davies, bride-elect of July. She received several beautiful gifts, for which she fittingly thanked those present. What was played, the prizes going to Mrs. Krupper, Mrs. Wilson (Coleman) and Ernestine Robinson.

Miss Jean Cruickshank, of Calgary, was a visitor at the home of her parents here last week.

Scotchman (at livery barn): "Will you hire me a horse?"

Owner: "How long?"

Scotchie: "Oh, the longest you have. There are ten of us going."

Mrs. Jones: "Do you think we have enough cake and ice cream for twenty small boys?"

Hostess: "Oh, yes; I made sure of that. I invited their mothers."

Teacher: "The horse and the cow is in the field! Archie, tell me what is wrong with that sentence?"

Archie: "The lady should be mentioned first."

Little Boy: "Well, mama, if God gives us our daily bread, the stork brings the babies and Santa Claus brings the presents, what's the use of having papa around?"

Mazie: "You've been stenographer for pretty near all the big shots in this department store, haven't you?"

Mabel: "Yes, I'm just about on my last lap now."

"Pa, what does it mean by Diplomatic Phraseology?"

"My son, if you tell a girl that time stands still while you gaze into her eyes, that diplomacy; but if you tell her that her face would stop a clock, you're in for it!"

This happened in Blairmore only recently:

Gardener: "Do you guarantee these seeds?"

Merchant: "Guarantee! I should say so! If that seed doesn't come up, you bring it back and we'll refund your money."

Mrs. Reed (with newspaper): "It says here that a woman in Omaha has just cremated her third husband."

Miss Willing: "Heigho! Isn't that just the way? Some of us can't get one, and other women have husbands to burn."

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

Fred Wolstenholme, who has not been feeling well lately, went to Calgary on Monday, accompanied by Ernest Fisher.

William Cole, senior, left this week for his home in Victoria, B.C., to spend the summer months.

A MOTORIST'S PRAYER

Give me a steady hand and watchful eye,

That no man may be hurt as I pass by.

Thou gavest life; I pray no act of mine

May take away or mar that gift of Thine.

Shelter those, dear Lord, who bear me company

From evils of speed and all calamity.

Teach me to use my car for other's need,

Nor miss, through love of speed,

The beauties of Thy world, that thus I may

With joy and courtesy go on my way!

"No, no, the man I marry must be a hero."

"Oh, you are not as bad as that."

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

THE OLD CODGER

(By Anne Campbell)

With a pipe in his mouth, a cane in his hand,

And a hat on the side of his head; He walks down the street on his jaunty old feet,

Saluting the neighbors he chances to meet.

When the sky of the morning is red,

With a glint in his eye, a spring in his step,

And a courageous swing of his arm; The old codger strides! This day, he confides,

Is fine for a chap if he walks or he rides!

He basks in the morning's bright charm.

His years are behind him, but he does not care,

He has lived out his whole life's design,

And he hums a refrain as he leans on his cane.

Tonight may be long, and its hours black with pain,

But this morning—this morning is fine!

Most any golfer, poor or rich,

Would never count the cost

If he could find a golf ball which

Would bark when it was lost.

Pete: "Everything that's bought goes to the buyer, doesn't it?"

Gene: "Some things, such as coal, go to the cellar."

ALBERTA SAFETY LEAGUE
President General Manager

H. W. J. MADDISON

HENRY J. ROCHE

An educational campaign designed to focus the attention of the community on the accident situation in Alberta is being launched by the Alberta Safety League, a non-profit, non-partisan, province-wide organization recently formed to promote public, industrial and home safety. It will enlist the support of the public in the safety movement, develop consciousness in the individual, and bring about popular disapproval of traffic violations. It is designed to reach the sphere of the child, the youth and the adult.

Safety organizations in England, the United States and Canada, operating during the past twenty-five years, have proven that through co-operative effort, properly directed, streets, highways, industries and homes can be made better and safer places in which to work and live, but to assure this we all must play an important part in this great accident prevention cause.

This safety movement in Alberta is under the distinguished patronage of His Honor Lieutenant-Governor J. C. Bowen, Premier William Aherhart and the Hon. James A. MacKinnon, P.C.M.P., and includes amongst its sponsors mayors, highway and traffic officials, enforcement officers and school superintendents, as well as many other interested Alberta citizens.

The policy of the league is as follows: The elimination of street, highway and all other accidents as being deplorable, unnecessary and wasteful. It seeks the support and co-operation of the provincial and civic governments, school boards, safety bodies, business corporations and individuals to insure that its service may provide Pass mine rescue station at Blaimore, for some years held by Ed. Royle, who is shortly to retire.

"Ha! That reminds me!" exclaimed a local pedestrian on Saturday morning last as a passing car splashed mud all over him from several of the big ruts that adorned our main street. "I must remember to take home that can of insect spray my wife asked me to get."

A little argument between a local guy and the weather man on Friday last is believed responsible for the very pleasing change of weather. The local guy, somewhat hotheaded or bigheaded through the influence of over-imbibing, yelled at the weather man: "Now, you dry up!" and he did.

A Chinaman, resident of Blaimore and district for many years, passed away on Wednesday morning following a lengthy illness. The funeral was held today, under auspices of the Chinese people of the district, and the remains were laid to rest in the local Protestant cemetery. As far as is known, he had no relatives in Canada.

Early in the Social Credit regime, Mr. Aherhart invited a distinguished Englishman to come to Alberta and survey the province's coal industry. Asked to dinner by the premier when he reached Edmonton, the visitor put on tails and white tie, and was a little surprised to be fed by his host to a cafeteria and told to help himself.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. R. Stewart, of Calgary, announce the engagement of the instrumentalities and finances to accomplish this objective.

Through a campaign of education it seeks to demonstrate that the safe way is the right way and the best way, from the standpoint not only of human satisfaction, but of social efficiency and economy. It seeks the adoption of uniformity in our highway traffic laws, regulations and such co-ordinated safety measures that will fit satisfactorily into the practical affairs of life.

Its financial policy is to return in service all monies received, so operating without profit, and to undertake only those activities which can be assured of reasonable permanence and effectiveness. Much of its administrative personnel will consist of volunteer workers.

The Alberta Safety League holds itself open to give fullest and most cordial co-operation to the provincial and civic governments, safety bodies, school boards, communities, industrial corporations and individuals that are in accord with the principles and objectives of the organization, and the Alberta Safety League likewise asks and seeks co-operation from all those in carrying out its purpose—accident prevention.

The Alberta Safety League will direct the plan of organization throughout the province, and by instituting, affiliated "safety councils" in the various cities and towns, the fullest co-ordination of method, programme and effort will be assured.

The direction of this work will be in the league's executive committee, composed of the president, vice-president, three members and the general manager.

their daughter, Harriet Ellen, to Mr. Hardwick Lynch-Staunton, son of Mrs. Charles Lynch-Staunton and the late Mr. Lynch-Staunton, of Lundbreck, the marriage to take place early in July. Mr. Staunton was a former resident of Blaimore, employed in the law office of the late Mr. J. E. Gillis.

Pickets were on hand at and leading to the local mine this morning, the trouble arising over make-up allowances. A mass meeting of miners was held this forenoon, and it is hoped the difficulties may be amicably settled.

For the benefit of the Alberta fisheries department we might state that our catch up to June 20th, 1939, for twenty days of fishing, amounted to: lake fish 0, lake trout 0, speckled trout 0, brown or luth levent trout 0, rainbow trout 1, cutthroat trout 3, Kamloops trout 0, Montana grayling 0, Arctic grayling 0, Rocky Mountain whitefish 0, pike 0, pickerel 0, perch 0, goldeyes 0. Might we suggest to the department of fisheries that they accept same as a pretty fair average catch, and that in the opinion of the average fisherman the eight-inch size is none too small. In a word, listening to the stories of the would-be fishermen, no fish should bite less than ten inches in length and ten pounds in weight. Which reminds us of a story we heard only last year of a fish that weighed eight pounds, but only measured eight inches in length. Really, one should sympathize with such fish, and wonder just what physically was wrong with it. Well, even fish stories are mentioned in the bible.

That idea of Able's of being a "tax gatherer" originated in the bible also.

The Empress of Britain, conveying Their Majesties the King and Queen and suite back home from their triumphal tour of Canada and into the United States, arrived at Southampton yesterday.

The new Pal-Mar Cabaret opened to the public the early part of this week, in charge of Floyd Waide, who is specializing in home made candy, etc. The premises have been very attractively arranged.

A gang of men are busy erecting new corrals and other structures at the Castle River stampede grounds, in preparation for the forthcoming stampede, the date of which has not yet been announced.

Mrs. Pruett, wife of A. A. Pruett, manager of the Grand Union hotel at Coleman, died suddenly at the home of her son in Cochrane, Alberta, on Wednesday morning of this week. Early last week Mrs. Pruett went to Calgary for medical advice, and was advised to rest for a week, when it was hoped to perform an operation for an internal ailment. Mrs. Pruett was in her 53rd year. She is survived by her husband; a married daughter, Mrs. L. Arnold, of Pincher Creek; Miss Nellie Pruett, at Cochrane, and son Thomas, hotel proprietor at Cochrane. Mr. and Mrs. Pruett came to Coleman last January. The remains are to be laid to rest at Calgary this afternoon.

Rumor has it that work of Mother surfacing of twenty miles of the Crows' Nest highway is to start soon.

Pincher Creek Oddfellows and Rebekahs will attend service in a body at the United church on Sunday night.

The United Action Committee are holding a meeting in Cowley on Thursday next, June 29th, at 8 p.m. A full attendance is requested.

Owing to the condition of Blaimore's main street, many new "damns" have been added to the motorists' vocabulary.

Members of Pincher Creek Oddfellows' lodge paid a visit to Bellevue lodge on Monday evening for installation ceremonies.

Tiger lilies were brought in from the Beaver Mines district this week. Owing to so much moisture, they are exceptionally beautiful this season.

A taxi driver, charged with using profane language, protested that the complainant, a woman, was no lady. "Indeed," said the magistrate, "I wonder if you know a lady when you see one."

"Of course I do," answered the driver indignantly. "Why only the other day I saw one. She gave me a five-dollar bill for a fifty-cent fare, an' walked away. 'Here, lady, what about your change?' I called after her."

"Don't be a blinkin' old fool," says she; 'keep it an' get drunk enough to kiss your mother-in-law.' Now, that's what I call a lady."

Her: "I've half a mind to get married."

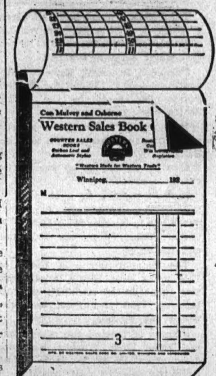

Wise Friend: "That's all you need."

New Bride: "You deceived me before our marriage. You told me that you were well off."

Chemistry Professor: "What is the outstanding contribution that chemistry has given the world?"

Student: "Blondes, sir."

Ted Bellak crossed Lake Michigan, a distance of 54 miles, for what is claimed to have been the longest over-water flight in a glider.

President Roosevelt signed a bill appropriating $1,750,000 for fighting grasshopper pests in the United States western farm areas.

Italy made it difficult for its citizens to make pleasure trips to Great Britain, France and the United States by tightening up foreign exchange restrictions.

Postponement until next year of new fishing regulations in national parks has been ordered by Hon. T. A. Cregar, Dominion minister of mines and resources.

The Simpson tunnel, in the Alps, 12 1/2 miles long, is the largest railway tunnel in the world. It was built between 1898 and 1905, and cost nearly $18,000,000.

Stamps of Iceland this year honor the New York World's Fair and draw attention to the fact that Vikings were the first to visit America, in 1000 A.D.

Frank J. Wilson, chief of the United States secret service, said "the thing that sticks out" after the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth "is that no one seemed to want to do them any harm."

The Fascist Grain Guild, meeting under Premier Mussolini, has ruled that wheat prices for the coming season would remain at 135 lire a quintal for soft wheat and 150 for hard. This is about $2 a bushel.

The board of transport commissioners for Canada published a judgment dismissing the application of Ontario farmers and millers for a lower railway rate on Ontario wheat and wheat products for export.

Col. V. I. Smart, deputy minister of transport, has been given a year's extension of service in his present post. The retiring age in the government is 65 and Col. Smart reached this age recently.

A War Souvenir

Treasures A Tin Of Chocolate Given By Queen Victoria

One of the 40,000 ration tins of chocolate given by Queen Victoria to her troops in Africa during the Boer War at Christmas 1899 is the treasured possession of P. Reed, 42-year-old unemployed printer of Hastings. Reed was serving as lance-corporal in the Royal Border Regiment when he was given the chocolate.

Many times in recent years he has been tempted to sell the tin to the highest bidder. At other times he has been so hungry that it was hard to keep from eating it.

The red, blue and gold tin bears Queen Victoria's initials, a crown, the words "South Africa 1900", and a message, "I wish you a Happy New Year—Victoria R.I."

Was Ready With Rent

New Jersey Rector Could Have Paid It To King George

Although the King and Queen did not stop at Freehold, N.J., on their way to Fort Hancock, Rev. John Schwabach, rector of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal (Anglican) Church, had three peppercorns ready to pay three years' rent to his "landlords". The rent is payable under a charter granted by King George II. in 1736. Mr. Schwabach paid the rent in full for two centuries on June 4, 1936, when he sent 200 peppercorns to King Edward VIII.

A peppercorn is the seed of the black pepper plant and is very small.

A Clever Reply

"Do you remember the time when your father drove a donkey cart?" The candidate for election fixed his glasses and gazed thoughtfully at the interrupter. Then he replied: "As a matter of fact, I had forgotten the cart. But I am thankful to see the donkey is still alive."

Lake Chad, in central Africa, has an area of about 10,000 square miles during the dry season, and about 20,000 square miles during the rainy season.

Gulf Stream Affected

Authorities Believe Icebergs Have Changed Its Course

Shippers and the ice patrol report that the North Atlantic is seeing more icebergs than for many years. They got so good a start from the Baffin Bay region that they are drifting full size to latitudes in which big ones have not been frequent since 1912, year of the Titanic disaster.

Steamships on the lanes to Europe, which since early May had been using an emergency southern track, have been advised by the International Ice Patrol to swing still farther south until the danger has passed.

This year's conditions have combined to send about 200 more than the normal number of bergs on the way to the Grand Banks. The patrol will chart about 600 of the 800 supposed to be in the drift. One of the coast guard vessels recently sighted 45 in one day. The biggest of them were 600 feet long and showed 135 feet above the water, which would mean 1,080 feet below water, a mass heavy enough to ruin any ship that hit it.

What the north country calls a warm winter has been the cause of the launching of the unusual number of bergs, and it was probably by their own strength that they made their way in such size and numbers to the steamer lanes. They continued on their way down, to contribute so much chill to the Labrador current that it was able where it met the gulf stream, to overcome much of the force of the warm water, in an effort to turn it slightly away from the shores. There may be further notes on that by meteorologists in the British Isles.

SELECTED RECIPES

NORWEGIAN PRUNE PUDDING

1 1/2 cups chopped cooked prunes
1/2 cup Crown Brand Corn Syrup
3 tablespoons Benson's or Canada Corn Starch
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons cold water
1 cup cold prune juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Wash 1 pound prunes; cover with warm water and simmer gently until tender. Drain the prunes (there should be 1 1/2 cups). Heat prune juice, prunes and Crown Brand Corn Syrup in top of double boiler. Mix corn starch and cinnamon to a paste with cold water; stir into the hot prunes. Stir and cook until the mixture thickens. Remove from heat and add lemon juice. Stir thoroughly. Pour into chilled moistened moulds. Serve with whipped cream and sugar. Chopped nuts may be added if desired. (Six servings.)

CREAMED HAM A LA KING

6 Shredded White Biscuits
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
1 tablespoon minced pimiento, finely chopped
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
1/2 cup diced cooked ham
1/2 cup sliced sautéed or canned mushrooms (optional)
1 egg yolk
Worcestershire sauce

Cook the green pepper and pimiento in oil tender in the butter in a double boiler. Add the flour and blend, then stir in the milk and paprika. Stir and cook until smooth and thickened, then cover and cook 10 minutes. Add the ham and mushrooms, and heat, then add the egg yolk, and cook over direct heat, stirring for one minute. Add Worcestershire sauce to taste and salt required. Serve on Shredded White Biscuits, cut crosswise in halves and heated in a moderate oven of 375 degrees F. for 10 minutes. Serves six.

Variation: If desired, the mushrooms may be omitted and one teaspoon prepared mustard added.

The Victoria Cross

Most Coveted Military Decoration Was Instituted 83 Years Ago

The Victoria Cross, the most coveted of all military decorations, was instituted Jan. 29, 1856—83 years ago. There are 380 recipients of the honor living. Fifty-seven won it before the Great War, between 1857 and 1905, and one since the Great War, in 1921. All who won it prior to 1882 are now dead. One hundred and seven crosses were won in the Crimean War and 132 in the Indian Mutiny, three of which were specially awarded to civilians. The sole claim to it is "Valor"—"Conspicuous bravery or devotion to the country in presence of the enemy."

The first recipient was a sailor—the last Indian sepoy of the 28th Punjab. The South Wales Borderers—the old 24th Foot—have won more crosses than any other regiment in the army.

Ancient Weapon

A 100-pound shotgun, brought to Mexico by Hernan Cortez in 1532, has been placed on exhibit in the Centennial Museum at the Texas College of Mines. It is a muzzle-loader with a bore of 35 millimeters, and it saw service in the Mexican War of Independence in 1810-1812.

REDINGOTE EFFECT

By Anne Adams

Redingotes, or dresses that give a redingote effect, are the smartest formulas for slenderness and summer charm that we know of. And design No. 4132 shows how simple and how effective this idea is when print and plain fabric are combined in a mock-redingote frock! What's more, with the aid of this so-very-new Anne Adams pattern, you can stick up other lovely warm-weather dresses without the redingote inset in the skirt. Revers spread out in a becoming point, and are ever so flattering whether in a contrast to match the skirt inset, or self fabric trimmed with a double row of lace. And sleeves whether fitted and slashed or full and flowing are a joy.

Pattern 4132 is available in misses' and women's sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Sizes 36 lakes 3 1/2 yards 38 inch fabric and 7 yard contrast.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send order to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Three Proudest Men

Were Baggage Masters And Chauffeur Chosen To Serve Royalty

The three proudest men in the Royal suite were Mr. Southgate, chauffeur to Lord Tweedsmuir, the Governor-General; S. B. Biddeau and the Canadian National Railways; and H. B. McConnell, of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. Southgate was chosen to act as chauffeur to the King and Queen all through the tour, and Mr. Biddeau and Mr. McConnell were the baggage masters on the Royal train. They had the task of looking after every piece of luggage carried by the Royal party and by the journalists and others travelling on the pilot train.

Some idea of the size of their job can be gained from the fact that there were over 80 boxes, trunks, suitcases, and other items in the personal luggage of the King and Queen alone.

Greetings For Blind Students.

Letters From Their Majesties In Braille Sent To Brantford

Every pupil at the Ontario School for the Blind in Brantford received a Brailled letter conveying greetings from the King and Queen. The letter was sent by Jesse Hodgson, Cornwall, and it was Brailled by McLennan, Cornwall, a former student of the Brantford school.

The letter was forwarded by royal command. It read: "I am commanded by the King to send this message to you, who are a student at the Ontario School for the Blind. Their Majesties send their best wishes to you and hope that it will be possible to put this in Braille so that you may read it and keep this memento of Their Majesties' stay in Brantford."

The famous copper tun kept in the cellar of Heidelberg castle was 10 feet long and 26 feet in diameter, and had a capacity of 49,000 gallons. It is said to have been the world's largest wine cask.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JUNE 25

PAUL REVIEWS HIS LIFE

Golden text: I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith. II Timothy 4:7.

Lesson: I. Corinthians 13:16-12:10; Philippians 1:12-24; 3:7-16; II Timothy 4:7, 8.

Devotional reading: Philippians 4:4-13.

Explanations and Comments

All Is Well, Philippians 1:12-24. "Paul, in prison awaiting trial, sent off one of the most joyful of all his letters—the letter to the Philippians. Even in prison, far away from the work which he loved, Paul was on top of life. Why? Because Paul had committed himself to a course greater and of more importance to him than his own comfort or even the safety of his life. He was on his side and was stronger than all fortune or misfortune" (Eugene Carson Blake).

I would have you understand, my brothers, that my affairs have really tended to advance the gospel; throughout the whole of the praetorian guard and elsewhere it is recognized that I am imprisoned on account of my co-operation with Christ (Moffatt's translation).

Paul's Goal, Philippians 3:7-11. The things we old Jews held as a standpoint he had most highly valued, Paul was well content to lose in exchange for whole of the praetorian guard and elsewhere it is recognized that I am imprisoned on account of my co-operation with Christ (Moffatt's translation).

Paul's Method of Obtaining His Goal, Philippians 3:12-14. Luther says "the Christian's life is not in being, but in becoming. Paul says perfection is not in being, but in striving. Possibly his words in these verses were forced especially for some of the Philippians readers who claimed high sanctity, a superiority over other Christians."

Once Paul had thought himself miserable, but now he speaks humbly of himself. He writes, "that I imagine I have already attained my goal, that I am already perfect—but—though I am still a learner, I am pressing onward to lay hold on that for which I was laid hold on by Christ"—referring to his experience on the way to Damascus.

Paul's Record II Timothy 4:7, 8. Triumphantly Paul declares, "I have fought the good fight"—I have contested earnestly in the presence of the Lord, I have finished the course, I have kept the rules of the games, I have kept the faith."

Then with assurance Paul cries, "henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give to me at that day; and not to me only, but also to all them who have loved his appearing."

Happened Every Day

Frenzied Bull Supplied Royal Postman With Plenty Of Thrills

"Northerner," columnist of the Yorkshire Post, illustrates the fidelity of rural postmen by the following incident:

One of these public servants was seen to race across a field at a furious pace and clear a five-barred gate. He picked himself on the safe side just as a frenzied bull charged at the gate and stuck its horns into the top bar.

A passerby said, "That's a narrow escape you've just had this morning." "This morning?" said the postman, pulling bits of grass and nettles from his tunic. "This morning!" It happens every morning."

In Case Of Emergency

British Farmers Urged To Store Feed For Their Cattle

All available wheat would probably be requisitioned for human consumption in wartime, and British farmers should therefore lay in stores of barley, oats and corn to feed their cattle in case of emergency. Agriculture Minister Sir Reginald Dorman-Smith warned in the House of Commons.

He explained the government was making plans to control distribution of fodder after outbreak of war.

Lilies Came From China

RURAL HEALTH CONSERVATION

Attention is drawn to the value of the county health unit by announcement of the awards in the Canadian Rural Health Conservation Contest for 1938. Financed by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, the contest is conducted in Canada by the Canadian Public Health Association in co-operation with the American Public Health Association.

For the second time the major award in Canada has been won by the St. Jean-Berville-Laprairie-Neuvillette County Health Unit, the headquarters of which are at St. Jean, Que., and the medical officer, Dr. J. A. Lapierre, D.P.H.

Judging in the contest is made by a carefully selected group of health experts, the communities being appraised on the measures it takes: (1) to provide and safeguard its water supply; (2) to furnish adequate and safe sewerage disposal; (3) to reduce infant and maternal deaths; (4) to reduce tuberculosis and syphilis; (5) to protect its citizens against other communicable diseases; (6) to insure healthy children; (7) to protect and safeguard its milk and other foods; (8) to promote effective co-operation with its physicians and dentists in furnishing necessary service to all those who need them; (9) to enlarge and improve its lay understanding of ways and means of preventing sickness and death and of maintaining good health.

Rural health conservation is one of the most important problems in Canada and it is to be hoped that the example set by the various county health units in the Province of Quebec will stimulate action in many other parts of Canada.

After Much Study

Experts Found Out What Polish People Call Grapefruit

It's a pretty awkward task to buy anything you don't know the name of, and since it is bad manners to point, Polish people in Pennsylvania were not buying grapefruit, because they couldn't think of any word in their language for it. The Florida Citrus Commission was pretty much worried by this, and got the Library of Congress to put some of their etymologists on an excavation job into the Polish dictionary, with the help of the Polish Embassy at Washington. They came across terms like "cytryny," but found them too general in application, and they were not "sazadko," which it is not in common use; "pomela" and "winea" were discarded as doubtful. Over a score of suggestions in addition to these were made. Finally a constant of the Polish Embassy was consulted as to the term preferred in Poland. He said the term preferred in Poland, and don't stop here if you've guessed it, is "grapefruit."—Journal of Commerce.

Brothers Re-United

After Being Separated For 38 Years, Have Again Found Each Other

The story of the reunion of two brothers, Charles F. Davies, of Gilbert Plains, and George Davies, of Muskegan, Lake, 30 miles north of Toronto, was told in a letter received at Toronto, from Gilbert Plains, by C. W. Buchanan, of Toronto.

The two brothers had become separated 38 years ago, and had given each other up for dead, until a travelling salesman, named Irwin, noticed the resemblance between a man in Ontario and a man at Gilbert Plains. Through E. P. Brown, editor of the Maple Leaf Press, Gilbert Plains, an investigation was carried out by letter, and the two brothers united.

The story will be climaxed in September when George goes west to meet his brother Charles.

"A very strong heart, indeed," said the "sore" "apparently" operation—whether he needs it or not.

"But, doctor, I am eighty."

"There you are! What did I tell you?"

CHAPTER XII—Continued

Duncan Van Doren arrived within the first week after the accident.

Duncan's pale face showed the effects of grief and shock; his pleasant veneer was rubbed off. "Well, I'm here now," he said, "and I'm here to stay until she gets well—or doesn't get well."

Mrs. Dana gave him a wan smile. "Duncan dear!" It was certain, they had assured her, that her child would live. "But Bixford, who is the greatest bone specialist this side of Chicago, won't make any prognosis yet about the spine."

Conrad Jordan, who had left Tara instantly to join in the search, remained to look after Gunnar. "Though there's nothing I can do," he admitted to Lynn Dana, "except walk up and down that horrible smelling hall with him, burbling about all the injured spines I've known cured, and dragging him out to eat infrequently. He begrudges every instant away from his mother, but the time they would let him see her." He shook his head. "And why can't he see her?"

"Why, I understand that no one—his friends began."

"On the contrary. All her family, the old governors, the large, polished, optimistic aunt—That's the abominable part of it."

"The man in the wheel-chair was agast. He seemed to have aged years in days. 'You think they are definitely determined to keep him away from her? She isn't conscious enough to ask for him?'"

"Even if she is, they won't let him in." Mary Dana Webster said hotly. She managed to run in to see Lynn Dana every day for a few minutes of aching sympathy. "It simply burns me up to look at him," she told her husband. "He knows what it means. Do you suppose he blames himself, Neddy?" she asked him. "That makes it a million times worse if he does."

"Well, he might at that," Ned Webster had shaken his head. "If he and the old lady hadn't given her the plane—"

"But, if she hadn't gone up with that miserable bum of a girl—"

"Yes, but if she hadn't been a flir it never could have happened to her."

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will love you to dance and partner. BUT if you are cross, jealous and thin, men won't be interested. Men don't like "thin" girls. When they go to parties they want girls who are full of pep. So to use you need a good general system tonic, remember for 1 generation our women have told another how to "build" themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It builds the blood, restores vitality and this side is doing you more pep and makes you feel like a new girl. Don't miss Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound. Write for FREE TRIAL.

he said reasonably. "And I expect that's the way the family figures, her mother anyway."

"Know," Mary Dana Webster nodded. "I wish Bally Ann would come home."

"She will, later," Lynn Dana said. "I cabled and wrote that her presence would mean more to Sarah Lynn in a little while, during the waiting period—weeks, months of it, probably." All three of them were thinking that it might be years, as it had been for him. "You know, people are no end kind and sorry, but the drama goes out of the situation, presently. I mean, they get used to the fact, and life goes on again, and—well, the calls and the flowers and books and things dwindle away."

"There'll be whole conservatories full of flowers now that Duncan is here," Mary said bitterly.

CHAPTER XIII.

Gunnar Thorwald was pacing the corridor when Duncan Van Doren got out of the elevator. Duncan's head was down; he did not see the fier. Gunnar stared incredulously, striding toward him, thrusting out an arm to block his way.

"You have seen her?" There was an emphasis on the first pronoun which made the question at once a demand and a protest.

Duncan looked at him with swimming eyes, nodding, his face convulsed. He manifested no resentment, no conviction that before him stood the cause of the tragedy; only an anguished flood of sympathy and sorrow. He gulped, groping for his handkerchief—"Horrible—cruel—"

Gunnar pushed past him toward the elevator, but it rose as he reached it, so he turned and went back up the stairs. A woman with a big bouquet of garden flowers shrank out of his way.

"Mercy!" she said to her husband. "That fellow looks like a mental case!"

He flung himself through the door in spite of the card in the brass frame which read:

Dana
Drs. Dunn and Bixford
NO VISITORS

but he stood still on the threshold, staring.

Mrs. Dana, standing at the window, her back to him, turned at the sound of his entrance. "Please leave the room!" she said in an angry whisper. "No callers are permitted. My daughter is—"

Gunnar was not listening. "There was nothing she could tell him about her daughter," he continued to stand still, looking at her.

"Leave this room instantly! I will ring for an orderly to put you out!" Mrs. Dana cried wildly. "Haven't you done enough to hurt me? You're satisfied with the suffering, the agony—"

she was bearing down on him in soft fury. "Do you want to kill her?"

But Gunnar had reached the bed. He had leaned over Sarah Lynn, shaking, and said her name.

She was as nearly white as her skin could be, and her nose, her brow, her chin, her cheek-bones were as sharp and salient as if they had been chiseled from marble. Her eyes were deep open, bigger and darker than ever, sunk in shadowed hollows, and she started recognition came into them at once and a blazing joy.

"My heart!" Gunnar said hoarsely. "My dearest heart!" He could not have known what he looked like, but he remembered to smile at her. Mrs. Dana came and pulled at his arm but he shook her off and bent lower, still smiling. "My heart—"

Sarah Lynn's eyes widened, the pupils dilating, and a strange look of fright and something stranger still of fright and something stranger still came into them. "No!" she cried. "Go away! Please, please go away!"

Mrs. Dana was pressing the button. "Now, do you hear?" she triumphed. "Do you hear?"

Gunnar thought, "It is Gunnar, my dearest one—to stay with you always!" He bent to kiss her.

But Sarah Lynn, pined and helpless, able to move nothing but her eyes, nevertheless, with every fibre of her being repelled him. "No, no! Go away! Never come again—never—come again!"

The press played it up and the radio buzzed with bulletins about Gunnar Thorwald's return flight across the Atlantic, but no newspapers came into Sarah Lynn's hospital room, and they never tuned in for news flashes—only for music or comedy programs, or an occasional playlet which was known to be pleasant and amusing.

Gunnar's name was not mentioned after the day of his visit. When, at length, he had been compelled to leave the room, he should hear Sarah Lynn's voice, spent but shrill, saying to her mother, "Make him go away! Make him go away!"

He had not waited to hear her mother's answer, hovering over her in an agony of protective tenderness,

SHE COULD NEITHER WALK NOR SLEEP

Arms and Feet Swollen With Rheumatism

This woman suffered for many years. Pain sapped her strength until she lost hope of recovery. Many remedies were tried, but nothing broke the grip of her crippling rheumatism. At last her husband persuaded her to try Kruschen Salts.

"My arms and feet were swollen with rheumatism," she writes. "I could not walk nor get regular sleep, and nothing did me any lasting good. I was so hopeless of ever getting better, I lost my good nature entirely. Then my husband persuaded me to try Kruschen Salts. After two weeks I began to feel better. I persevered, and in six weeks, I was doing housework. Later, I was able to go for a walk. Now I am free from pain and I feel grand."—(Mrs.) F.W.

Rheumatism is commonly caused by deposits of uric acid crystals, which lodge in the muscles and joints. Kruschen helps to break up these deposits of troubling crystals and to convert them into a harmless solution, which is removed through the natural channel—the kidneys.

and he did not know that Sarah Lynn had cried, quietly, ceaselessly, for three days. The tears trickled out of the corners of her eyes and slid down her temples into her hair, but she could not lift her hand to wipe them away.

Her doctors and nurses were disturbed, but they didn't seem able to control it. "This isn't helping any," Miss Burke said.

"It is just the reaction, the great relief, after that distressing and cruel interview the other day," Mrs. Dana insisted. "Darling, you are safe with Mother, and no one is going to bother you again! Mother's right here!" She saw the nurse's gray eyes upon her and followed her out into the aggressively clean-smelling corridor. "It is perfectly natural," she said rather combatively.

She regards him as the cause of her misfortune, so of course she shrinks from him."

"You think so?" Miss Burke said levelly. "Well, I can't give all the answers, but that wouldn't be my diagnosis." She went away with her head down, her nose, her brow, her chin, her cheek-bones were as sharp and salient as if they had been chiseled from marble.

She was as nearly white as her skin could be, and her nose, her brow, her chin, her cheek-bones were as sharp and salient as if they had been chiseled from marble. Her eyes were deep open, bigger and darker than ever, sunk in shadowed hollows, and she started recognition came into them at once and a blazing joy.

"Suppose you just step out and let us have our visit alone," he said mildly. Then he sat down and patted her hand. "Well, Sarah Lynn, I brought you into the world, as the old saying goes, and I saw you through measles and chickenpox and the rest of 'em. I'm mighty sorry about this. Was there anything special you wanted to say to me?"

She could not turn her head, but her eyes turned to him. "Yes, the truth, always. Am I going to die?"

"No," he said heartily. "I'm not up on all the details of your case, of course, but I had a talk with Dana. No, you're not going to die."

"Must I?"

He cleared his throat. "I guess you must, girl. I guess that's your chore."

Sarah Lynn said after a long pause, "I know doctors can't—kill people. It's only animals that can be—what do they say?—put out of their misery. But can't they—just not make people live?"

He shook his grizzled head. "That's their chore, Sarah Lynn, making people live." Then he said briskly. "But it's not going to be like this, you know, always."

Sarah Lynn said, "They used to give me stuff all the time to make me sleep. I wish they still did. If I have to live, I think they might do that for me."

"You still had . . . my head, my heart. Will you ask them to give it to me again?"

"No," the old country doctor said. "I won't do that, Sarah Lynn. You wouldn't want me to. I guess it took plenty of grit to go up in your plane, and more than plenty to come down in a parachute. But I believe you have a lot of grit left." He stood up, looking down at her, his eyes very bright. "Yes, you've got to live, Sarah Lynn."

On a card in the front window of a suburban home appeared the following notice:

"A piano for sale." In the window next door another card appeared with just one word: "Hurrah!"

More than a year ago Egypt sent strong defences along its western border, to protect the Nile Valley from Italian Libya.

A Great Sculptor

John Theodore Tussaud Has Modelled More Than 1,500 People

The world's most famous people are just now in the hands of a man who has just celebrated his 52nd birthday and golden wedding.

John Theodore Tussaud, white-haired and kindly head of the famous waxworks family, has modelled more than 1,500 people.

"I've been to hundreds of famous trials, watching every facial line and mannerism of criminals who later were added to our exhibition," he said.

"Royalty and famous politicians I invariably model after watching them during their public engagements and memorizing them until I get back to the studio."

The man, whose work has been seen by nearly every member of the Royal family during the past half-century, remembers the time when he lifted up the present King as a child.

"He was touring the exhibition, and was just too small to see the miniature martyrdom scene of Thomas à Becket," he said.

At present Mr. Tussaud is putting the finishing touches in his studio to a double-size bust of Queen Mary.

"I have perfected a self-hardening form of clay of my own composition," he said. "I believe it will revolutionize sculpture."

Hunting Boers' War Chest

Three Brothers Hope To Locate Treasure In South Africa

A new search is to be made for the "Krugger millions"—the money, gold and valuables which formed the Boers' war chest during the South African War.

Three brothers named We Wet, of the Bredaard district of Cape Province, have in their service a Sasotto and Williams who said he helped hide the treasure when he was batman to Gen. Cronje.

At President Kruger's house he assisted in loading the treasure on to an ox cart, which he then led to a spot between Pretoria and Pietersburg. Along with other natives, he had previously been ordered to dig holes near this place.

Gen. Cronje and Gen. De Wet, who had accompanied the wagon, then ordered the load to be transferred to a Scotch cart which they brought along. The two Boer leaders then went off with the Scotch cart and what was returned it was empty.

The brothers De Wet plan to have Williams guide them to the place. In the meantime they have written to the Government to ask how they would stand if they found anything.

Child Training

Parents Are Warned Against Trying To Make Geniuses Of Their Children

Proud parents are advised by a teacher of psychology to stop trying to make "geniuses" out of pre-school age children.

Dr. Alexander Schneider, psychologist of Loyola University, says parents should be "preparable harm" to youngsters by helping to develop either "social or educational maladjustments."

Asserting it was "impossible to make anything like a genius out of the average child," Dr. Schneider deplored a widespread tendency, particularly among educated persons, to satisfy their own egos by forcing their children into intellectual moulds and to their native capacity or temperament.

Compelling children—even before they are able to hold their books upright—to recite poems, count up to 100, or name offhand the streets of the cities in which they live, were named by Dr. Schneider as among the practices used in parental efforts to develop precocious youngsters.

Not A New Idea

Air-Conditioning Was Used In King Solomon's Time

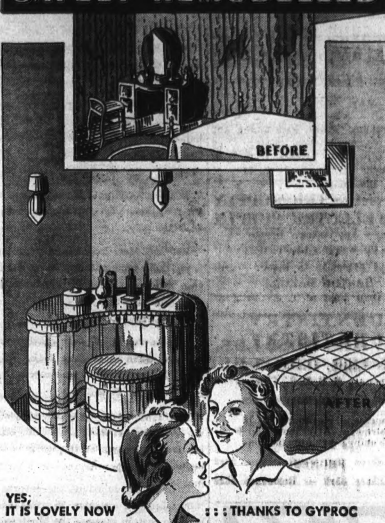

The site of King Solomon's great factory town of El-Zion-Geber on the Red sea—The Pittsburg of Palestine—has been uncovered in excavations just completed by Nelson Glueck, director of the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem, Yale University announced.

Many buildings in the vast smelting centre were air-conditioned for heat and contained an elaborate system of flues and air channels that permitted utilization of strong north winds as natural blasts.

Best For Reading

Newspaper With Short Line Has Advantage Over Usual Book

Newspaper print makes for efficient and easy reading because of the short length of line in the average newspaper column, D. G. P. Cochrane of the University of Toronto's department of psychology, told the Ontario Optical Association annual convention at Ottawa.

In that respect newspaper print had many advantages over the usual book, in which the length of each printed line is considerably longer, he said.

Best students in a large group of pupils tested for reading ability read three or four times more quickly than the slowest. It was less fatiguing and better results were obtained by fast reading, since in this way the essentials of the matter read are more easily absorbed, Dr. Cochrane said.

Real Baseball

Is Game In Small Town Between Home Team And Visitors

Baseball is a game played on a hot afternoon under a broiling sun and under the watchful eyes of indignant enthusiasts. A game played under the stars and floodlights is something else. The specialist may even question whether the games played in the big league parks, day or night, are really baseball.

The real, true genuine baseball, in the opinion of many is the game played in a small town between the home team and the visitors a game attended by the entire population and a game which enforces a public holiday, because the stores are deserted anyway. That is baseball. —Halifax Chronicle.

Queer Book Markers

Some People Make Use Of Anything That Is Handy

City librarians of Longmont, Colorado, report that they have found several toothbrushes in returned books. Other unorthodox markers include safety pins, comic valentines, absorbent cotton, blades of grass, price tags, candy wrappers, crochet hooks, photographs and drawings.

"People jump up to answer the doorbell, to keep the steak from burning or to perform some other emergency task and they jam anything that is handy into the book."

It is the way the librarians figure it out.

Although marriages in the United States fell off 14 per cent last year as compared with 1937, the retail jewel business still rang up $70,000,000 in the old cash register from the sale of wedding gifts, rings and other marital trinkets.

A letter from Stan Walker in New York, addressed to "The President, the Bucket of Blood, Pincher Creek, near Brocket," landed safely in the hands of Mr. C. Tysom at Pincher Creek.

The story is told of a Crows' Nest Pass fisherman who one time, rather than buy himself one, borrowed his friend's "subscription" and got the necessary bait from the nearest liquor store. Returning home from the trip, he reported having brought with him "a sack of sugar full of fish." Next?

Major Schoof, who has been lecturing through the States for the winter months, recently visited his daughter, Mrs. Amundson, at Claresholm, and continued north, hoping to pass through Aberhart. Well, knowing the major's anti-robust figure as we do, no doubt he could pass through like a darn needle, practically unnoticed.

We saw a beautiful two-pound rainbow trout landed from Crows' Nest Lake on Sunday forenoon last. The captor was not a fully qualified fisherman, however, for he could not and would not tell a lie. His tape had to be witness, as well as the scales, and he willingly admitted it was the only fish he had caught this season. He blamed anglerworms for his good luck.

Neil Primrose, councillor of Vegreville, has been elected president of the Union of Alberta Municipalities for 1939-40, succeeding Mayor Elton, of Lethbridge.
